

In this app, you can check crowd levels at different locations, such as restaurants and gyms, to eliminate wasted time and have more efficient schedules as a busy individual.

You can either have a free or premium subscription. With the premium subscription, you have access to PopuLert's AI Chat advisor, AI-Generated Schedule, and crowd forecasts using long-term data.

You can also report the occupancy levels of different sections at different places, such as a gym floor. By reporting these occupancy levels, you can earn points and get gift cards using those points.

Finally, you can access the crowd density map, which shows the occupancy levels of different places in an urban area, such as Columbus.
